Sri Kalita in his inaugural address , congratulated the winner and thanked GMA for organizing such a programme to boost up the skill of young manager and motivate them to perform better.

While talking on the theme 'Managing India' he mostly Concentrated on North East scenario and said we have to go a long way. Nothing is going well with the economy. The Unemployment has been on the increase, the agricultural production is yet to pick up., investment in industry is not worthy of reckoning. He advised the participant to follow the line of India as a whole , where younger generation have taken over the enterprise building career in more members. North East has showed a welcome sign of younger people coming up to business. He advised the young managers to try to be a model for others and prepare them to be suitable to the real world in the field.

Sri D. N. Barua-President, GMA congratulated the winners and said that overall standard of young managers of North East is very good. According to the jury difference between best and others is marginal. Therefore he advised that there is no reason to be disappointed; but all should try to learn to be successful manager in the workplace which is the real world.

Sri P.K. Barthakur – Vice –President of GMA and chairman of the award ceremony highlighted the objective of the NEYMC award Sri Shantikam Hazarika – Director AIM and advisor to GMA and Dr. J.K. Bharali-Dean of Darwin School of business also spoke and congratulated the winners.
